▼ BACKGROUND

Doc Wheelwright originally made this recipe as a gift for people who extended special courtesies to him when he traveled and consulted. He demonstrated with his own skin that it was designed to smooth out wrinkles on their faces and rejuvenate the skin. People liked it so much, demanding more, that Wheelwright's son, Stu, began professional manufacture. Doc, who was much weathered and beaten in his elder years, exhibited rejuvenation of his facial skin, often noted by people who saw him before and then again six months later. Doc donated some of this formula to a young man with disfiguring facial burns who had run out of skin-graft donor locations, and was credited with helping the final grafts take hold and improve the disfigurement.
